Resident

is assigned to the apartment identified above. If more than one person is identified above as Resident, all such persons will be jointly and severally responsible for all of Resident’s obligations under this Housing Agreement. This Housing Agreement also includes the following terms: 1, Term. Resident will have access to the Property and the assigned apartment as of 1:00 pm on the Start Date, and this access will end as of 12:00 Noon on the End Date (the “Term”), unless early arrival or late departure is approved by Landlord in writing, at additional cost to the Resident, 2. Payment. a. Resident accepts financial responsibility for the full Term of the Housing Agreement, whether or not the assigned apartment is occupied for the duration of the Term. Resident agrees to make full and prompt payment to Landlord according to the payment schedule specified above by no Jater than the 1* of the month, without 6&2 x iper x demand of Landlord. For move ins or move outs that do not occur on the first of the month, the month will not be prorated. The payment will still be due on the first of that month. Resident will be notified of all utility/amenity/maintenance fees plus any other charges assessed to resident ledger and will be required to remit payment for that balance within 10 days of posting. Payment may be made by personal check, money order or cashier's check, credit card, check card, electronic check, or by direct bank transfer, provided that Landlord reserves the right to charge processing fees as appropriate for such payment methods. If any payment is returned unpaid, Landlord may require Resident to make future payments by certified funds. Payment (including by mail or electronic payment) is deemed made only when received by Landlord or its agent, subject to clearance of funds. Resident's payment obligation is a promise by Resident which is independent from all of Landlord's and its agent's promises, duties, and obligations. To cover Landlord's added costs for late payment, each payment will be increased by $50 as a late charge if not paid by the date due and will be increased by an additional $2 per day thereafter until paid in full. No grace period will be extended past the due date(s) provided. If payment is not made by the fifth calendar day ofa month when due, Landlord will take legal action for possession and payment, and Resident will be responsible for all legal fees and costs in connection with such action, To cover Landlord's added costs for processing of payments that are dishonored or returned due to insufficient funds or any other reason, each such payment will be increased by $60 as a returned payment charge and will not be considered paid until valid payment has been received. For all returned payments, late fees will be applicable from the date balance was due. Resident acknowledges that any failure of electronic payment method will still result in associated returned payment fees and late fees. Ongoing notification requirements by Landlord to Resident of unpaid balances may also result in additional penalty fees and disabled internet/amenity access. Payment should be mailed or delivered to Hunter Bloomington Properties, LLC [REDACTED OFFICE ADDRESS], [REDACTED OFFICE CITY AND ZIP]. Acceptance by Landlord of any payment shall not waive Landlord's right to terminate this Housing Agreement and/or claim any damages. b. Electronic Payment Release. Hunter Bloomington Properties process checks through an electronic payment system. By paying your rent by check, please be aware that you are authorizing Hunter Bloomington Properties to use the information on your check to make a one-time electronic payment from your checking account. Landlord does not utilize the date indicated on the payment as a basis of when payment shall be processed but rather the date payment is received. The electronic payment will be for the amount indicated on your check and may be withdrawn from your bank account as carly as the same day payment it is received. Please note that your check will not be returned by the financial institution but will instead appear under the "Electronic Items" section on your bank statement. ¢. Electronic payments made through any website utilized by Landlord for payment processing are still subject to returned payment fees and late fees as outlined in the Housing Agreement. Resident acknowledges that all payments are subject to a processing time frame which may result in delay in receiving notification regarding a returned payment. 3. Notices. Written correspondence should be mailed to; Hunter Bloomington Properties,

[REDACTED OFFICE ADDRESS], [REDACTED OFFICE CITY AND ZIP]. Landlord's agent will maintain the following office telephone number: 812-558- 0800. For after-hours emergencies such as fire, flood, water problems, lockouts or heating failure, Resident is required to contact the on-call emergency service. A $50 charge may be assessed to the Resident's account for a lockout. Resident may also receive notice at the premises as listed above and acknowledges that no other parties may provide notification to Landlord on Resident's behalf unless they are listed as an approved guarantor or lease holder on the account. 4. Assignments. Apartment assignments are made, and may be changed, only by Landlord or its agent. Resident acknowledges that Landlord makes no guarantee of placement at lease signing and will utilize the completed Apartment Requests form to determine placement based on apartment availability only after resident has met all screening requirements, Change requested by Resident: Resident may request to change assignments to a different apartment, Such change requests by the Resident are only effective upon written approval by Landlord in its discretion, subject to the following preconditions; (a) Resident must be in good standing under the Housing Agreement; (b) Resident must prepay a $200 reassignment fee (refunded if the request is declined); (c) Resident and Landlord must sign a written confirmation of the change in assignment, including Resident's agreement to pay the prevailing rate for the new assignment, pro-rated to the date scheduled for relocation; (d) Resident must pay a new security deposit for the new assignment, and Resident's prior security deposit balance will be refunded within 45 days following move-out from and inspection of the original apartment, and (c) relocation must be completed within 24 hours or charges will apply on both apartments, Change by Landlord: Landlord reserves the right to relocate Resident to another equivalent apartment at the Property for any reason upon at least three days' notice, In such case, x pe" x a if the new Landlord-assigned apartment carries a lower rate, Resident's charges will be pro-rated and reduced accordingly; if the new Landlord-assigned apartment carries a higher rate, Resident will continue to pay the rate under this Housing Agreement and will not be charged the higher rate. Failure to relocate within the time provided by Landlord may result in charges applying for both apartments. 5. Termination; Subletting/Delegation. Once this Housing Agreement is signed by Landlord and Resident, Resident can terminate occupancy by providing written notice to Landlord and by fully vacating the premises, provided that in all cases Resident will remain fully responsible for the Total Rent that would have accrued under this Housing Agreement, through the end of the full original Term, accelerated and payable at the time of termination. No exception can be made for financial hardship, academic changes, family matters, medical issues, roommate conflict or any other reason, Any charges associated with damage to an apartment or the Property or Resident's failure to vacate completely upon termination, will be payable in addition to the foregoing amount. After such termination, Landlord will use its commercially reasonable efforts to contract with other individuals for the use of available apartments, including the apartment vacated by Resident; if and when all such available apartments at the Property are fully assigned and occupied and no apartment remains vacant, Resident will receive a refund equal to the charges that would have accrued under this Housing Agreement, prorated from such date through the end of the original term hereof. Resident may not assign or transfer Resident's interest in this Agreement, or any part hereof, nor sublet Resident's right to use the Property, apartment, or any part thereof, without prior written approval from Landlord. In Landlord's sole discretion, Resident may sublet or delegate his or her right to use the apartment to another person pursuant to Landlord's approval of sublet or delegation form, signed by all parties, provided Resident is in good standing under the Housing Agreement and pays either a $200 sublet fee or $750 delegation fee to Landlord prior to taking occupancy. In the case of sublet, Resident will remain on contract and carry full financial and legal obligation for original term of contract in addition to any move-out costs associated with that term. In the case of delegation, Resident will assign his or her security deposit balance and any credits to the delegate resident. Sublet or delegate Resident will inherit the apartment from the original resident in an "as-is" condition, and at no point in time between transfer of sublet or delegate will Landlord provide an inspection of apartment condition or any form of repairs, painting or cleaning of the above listed apartment. Original resident will bear responsibility for transfer of keys to sublet or delegate Resident where Landlord will only provide additional apartment entry keys free of cost if number of incoming residents exceeds original as outlined on housing agreement. 6. Move-in; Inspection: Delay. Before Resident may access or occupy the premises, all required security deposits and installments must be paid in full with cleared funds. Preceding Resident's taking possession of the assigned apartment, Landlord will conduct an inspection of the assigned apartment and will note on the Check-In/Check-Out Inspection Report ("Inspection Report") any defects, damage or conditions observed. Resident will be provided a copy of the Landlord completed Inspection Report at the time he or she takes possession of the apartment and will be allotted 48-hours to make additional notations to the Inspection Report and return to Landlord for review and approval. Upon Landlord's approval, the Inspection

Report will become part of this Agreement as conclusive evidence ofexisting conditions and ofa full inventory of fixtures. If Resident fails to conduct the inspection and/or provide a revised, signed Inspection Report to the Landlord within the 48-hour window provided, then Resident waives the right to dispute any assessment of damages to the apartment as outlined in the original copy provided to Resident at the time, he or she took possession. Upon Resident's move-out (or, as applicable, following the move- out of all residents of an apartment) at the termination of this Agreement, Landlord will note the then-present condition of the assigned apartment, including all appliances and fixtures, and any damages incurred, and/or extraordinary cleaning deemed necessary by Landlord or extraordinary wear as determined by Landlord. Resident will promptly pay all costs of restoring the apartment to the same condition upon move-in, less normal wear, and is encouraged to inspect the apartment with Landlord's representative prior to move-out by making an appointment during business hours at least 7 days in advance. Resident acknowledges that except as provided in the Inspection Report, each apartment is being delivered in "as-is" condition, and Resident's acceptance of the assigned apartment at the beginning of the Term constitutes Resident's acknowledgment that the apartment and all fixtures are in good repair and condition, Landlord will not be responsible for any damages or consequences suffered by Resident as a result of Landlord's inability to timely deliver possession of the apartment to Resident on the anticipated Start Date; in such event, the rent will be abated until Landlord renders possession and such delay will not extend or decrease the term or change the End Date. Utilities. Landlord shall pay only for those utilities identified in the Housing Agreement. Resident will be responsible, together and jointly with other residents of the Resident's assigned apartment as applicable, for arranging for and paying all charges associated with other utilities not listed above or exceed Landlord provided services, and will promptly pay to the respective utility providers all such charges as they come due, Resident is responsible for establishing service in the name of such resident(s) with the utility providers, prior to the Start Date of this

Housing Agreement; otherwise, Resident will be responsible for all utility charges during the period of occupancy plus an administrative fee of $50 per billing cycle. Resident will be responsible for all utility costs incurred by the assigned apartment during the Term and will reimburse Landlord for all non-included utilities that are charged to Landlord. Landlord makes no representations and hereby disclaims any and all warranties, express or implied, with respect to any utilities provided or quality of service for those utilities, including but not limited to those warranties concerning merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose or use, whether made allegedly by Landlord or its representatives or agents, whether in writing or otherwise, except as otherwise expressly stated in this Agreement, or in written documentation signed by the parties hereunder afier the date hereof. Landlord does not warrant or guarantee the protection of Resident’s privacy during operation of utilities, that such utilities will satisfy Resident's requirements, or that the operation of utilities will be uninterrupted or error free. Resident acknowledges and agrees that neither Landlord nor its affiliates, agents, employees or representatives will be responsible to Resident for any non-economic, consequential, incidental, indirect or special damages, including incidental, economic or punitive damages, arising from breach of warranty, breach of contract, negligence or any other legal ground of action, or by reason of the use, discontinuation or modification of any utilities or the termination of any utilities, whether arising from Resident’s use of (or inability to use) utilities, or otherwise, even if Landlord has been advised of the possibility of such damage. Resident agrees to indemnify, defend and hold harmless Landlord and its employees, affiliates and agents, from any and all losses, claims, damages, expenses, other liabilities and causes of action of every nature, including attomey fees, which arise, directly or indirectly: (i) in connection with the negligent acts, omissions or intentional wrongdoing of Resident; (ii) violation by Resident of any and all laws, ordinances, regulations and rules in connection with the utilities; or(iii) illegal or inappropriate use ofthe utilities. Any damage or loss to any utility devices, during Resident's occupancy will be charged to Resident (and the other residents in the apartment, as applicable) at the replacement cost. 8. Personal Property, Neither Landlord nor any of its employces, representatives or agents assumes any liability, directly or indirectly, for loss or damage to the personal property of Resident or others by fire, theft or any other cause. Residents are required to obtain personal property insurance coverage or renter’s insurance and must submit proofof coverage at time

Resident takes possession of the assigned apartment. Failure to provide proof of insurance at time of move in or throughout the lease term, will result in enrollment in the Resident Shield/Master Policy at the expense to the Resident. Any personal property remaining in the apartment at the end of the Term or after earlier termination of this Agreement will be considered abandoned by Resident and may be disposed of by Landlord at the risk and expense of Resident, with Landlord maintaining a landlord’s lien for unpaid rent, as provided by Indiana law. Landlord will not be liable or responsible for storage or disposition of the Resident’s personal property. 9. Responsibility for Damage. Resident wili be responsible for any damage, defacement or loss within the assigned apartment or to common areas, fixtures or appliances. Resident will be fully responsible for the conduct of his/her/their guests, visitors, licensees and invitees (“Guests”), including without limitation harm to individuals or damage or defacement ofany part of the Property or its fixtures or property ofthird parties (including other residents) by such Guests. 10. Prohibitions. Illegal drugs, firearms, weapons or explosives ofany kind are strictly prohibited anywhere on or about the Property, including individual apartments, No gas or charcoal grill, nor any other open flame cooking or heating device, may be stored or used on any balcony, deck and/or patio at the Property, except on the ground at least 25 feet from any building. Resident will, and will cause Guests to: (a) comply with all federal, state, county and city laws, ordinances and/or regulations, including without limitation those relating to the consumption ofalcoholic beverages; (b) not act in any way that endangers the Property or the safety of any person, or that is intended to facilitate criminal activity; (c) not engage in disruptive behavior or conduct or allow any noise loud enough to be heard outside the apartment or in neighboring apartments assuming doors and windows were closed; (d) not place or keep any trash outside of the apartment, including on any balcony, deck or patio;

(e) not damage or take any property belonging to others without express consent; (f) not tamper or interfere with smoke detectors; (g) not injure the reputation of the Property or its residents, (h) not act or fail to act in any way that would cause an increase in the rate of insurance at the Property; (i) not engage in any activity which interferes with or decreases the use and enjoyment of the Property by other residents, and (j) otherwise obey all rules and regulations applicable to the Property. Any single violation of any of the foregoing will be considered a material breach of this Housing Agreement and will be good cause for immediate termination of the Housing Agreement with all charges due and subject to additional fines. 11. Cleanliness and Safety. Resident agrees to maintain the assigned apartment and the common areas of the Property in a clean, safe and sanitary condition, to exercise all due care in the use of same, and to cooperate fully with the Property pest control program and policies as requested. Resident will not place trash anywhere outside of apartment other than Landlord provided waste receptacles and will be responsible for the cost of cleaning the interioror exterior of the apartment if not kept in sanitary condition. Resident wil! be responsible for maintaining temperatures within the apartment between 60°F and 75°F in order to prevent freezing in cold temperature weather and excessive humidity during hot temperature weather. Resident will be responsible for all damage anywhere at the Property resulting from failure to keep the apartment adequately heated or cooled, including but not limited to, frozen pipes/fixtures and mold mitigation. Resident is not permitted to have a cluttered appearance to apartment entry or patio and may not store any items on the exterior of apartment with the exception of outdoor furniture items on the apartment patio. Specific items prohibited from being stored on the apartment exterior include, but not limited to: trash, recycling, upholstered furniture, vehicles, vehicle parts, workout equipment, scrap or metal parts, storage containers, grills, garden hoses, watercrafts, animals, birdfeeders and neglected items. 12, Entry. Landlord and its agents, employees and contractors may enter any apartment to perform routine maintenance, inspections, showings and other ordinary functions, provided that Landlord will attempt to provide at least 24 hours advance notice to residents of an apartment before such entry. Landlord reserves the right to enter an apartment without prior notice (including a passkey and/or disarming an alarm or other means of entry if locks have been changed) for emergencies such as for urgent maintenance or repairs, or when there is reasonable cause to believe that a situation exists that could cause danger to life, safety, health or property, or a violation of this Agreement.

Landlord may confiscate any item deemed to cause a danger, and is under no obligation to pay compensation for or to return such items. At no point in time may Resident refuse Landlord entry to the apartment if prior notice has been given or in the event emergency entry is required. 13. Residential Use; Pets. The apartment may be used solely for private residential purposes and for no other purposes. Resident may not carry on any business or other enterprise from the apartment, nor use any Landlord-provided Internet connections for business purposes. Resident may place no signs, placards or other advertisement of any character on the exterior of the apartment or on the Property, nor display anything in an apartment that is visible from outside the Property or the apartment. In Landlord’s discretion, Resident may obtain permission to keep a cat or dog (subject to limitations on certain breeds of dog, weight potential, and number of pets,) in the assigned apartment, provided that Resident pays an additional refundable deposit and signs a Pet Policy addendum outlining pet details prior to bringing pet to the apartment. Resident may keep a disability-assistance animal to the extent approved by Landlord in its sole discretion. Pets of others may not be kept at the Property at any time. Violation of the above policies will subject Resident to mandatory increased Security Deposit, deep-cleaning and daily administration fees in Landlord’s discretion, and may be considered as a termination of this Housing Agreement by Resident with housing fees due and accelerated as provided in paragraph 5. 14. Guests: Occupancy Limits. No one other than the persons identified above as “Resident” may occupy the apartment, except for an immediate family member of Resident that has been registered in writing with Landlord. If Resident desires to have an Overnight Guest (any person staying in the Resident’s apartment for more than three total nights in any 30-day period), then Resident must register the Overnight Guest(s) with Landlord. Resident may not have Ovemight Guest(s) for more than three consecutive nights, or for more than six total nights in any 30-day period. In the event any unregistered or unauthorized Overnight Guest(s) are identified to be in or using an apartment, Landlord may assess against the Resident a fee established by Landlord from time to time, in addition to the right of Landlord to declare Resident in material breach of this Agreement and pursue other available remedies. Although Resident may have Guests from time to time, Landlord reserves the right to restrict the number of persons permitted in or about an apartment at any time in Landlord's discretion, to protect safety and the quiet enjoyment of other residents. All Guests may park only in overflow parking areas and no Guest’s vehicle may remain at the Property for more than three days. 15. Parking. Landlord grants to Resident a non-exclusive, undivided limited permit to use at any given time any one marked parking spot per each lease holder in the apartment in the Property’s parking lot (subject to handicap and reserved parking restrictions) for the sole purpose of parking personal, non-commercial vehicles, and for ordinary access to and from such parking lot over marked driveways. At no point in time may resident store or park campers, boats, storage pods, trailers, semi-trailer trucks or all-terrain vehicles. Each parked vehicle must be properly registered and licensed, and may not create a safety hazard. Vehicles in a non-working condition, improperly parked or appearing abandoned may be towed at the vehicle owner’s expense. This paragraph creates a limited use license and not a bailment. Resident assumes all risk and responsibility for damage to vehicles and any personal property contained in them, and the vehicles or other personal property of others, in connection with any use of parking areas. Landlord is not responsible for any damage to vehicles or property contained in vehicles. Landlord reserves the right to revoke or restrict parking rights in the event Resident violates this paragraph or the Housing Agreement. Landlord may also revoke parking rights for nonpayment. 16, Smoking. Resident and members of Resident’s household shall not smoke, burn candles, burn incense or engage in any other activity which could result in particles and/or smoke which tend to cause, persistent odors, staining on 62 xp x walls, carpets or other portions of the premises, that necessitates the removal of carpet and padding despite an apparent clean appearance. All such damage and repair cost will be considered extraordinary damage beyond normal wear and tear and is the responsibility of the Resident therefore, ANY INDICATION OF SMOKING IN THE PREMISES SHALL RESULT IN A CHARGE OF $1,500 TO RESIDENT(S). 17. Maintenance, Alteration and Repair Resident is responsible for and agrees to take good care of the premises, fixtures and all common areas. Resident may not remove any of Landlord’s property and will not perform any repairs, upgrades, painting, wallpapering, electric changes, alarm installs, lock replacements and installations, or other alterations of the premises without prior written consent from Landlord. Resident will be responsible for damage from waste stoppages caused by foreign or improper objects or improper use in lines serving bathrooms, damage to fixtures, appliances, doors, windows, screens, damage from water faucets left on or from doors left open, and repairs or replacements to Landlord provided alarm devices necessitated by misuse or damage by Resident and/or guests. Extraordinary appliances or furnishings such as satellite dishes, hot tubs, pool tables, water beds or high utility-consuming devices may not be installed or placed on the premises or anywhere at the Property without Landlord’s prior written consent, in its sole discretion. In the case ofa malfunction ofany utilities or damage by fire, water or similar cause, or any water leak, electrical problem, broken glass, broken lock or any other condition that Resident reasonably believes poses a material hazard to health and safety, Resident must promptly notify Landlord in writing. Landlord will act with reasonable time and diligence in making repairs and reconnections; Resident may not withhold or reduce payment of rent or other charges during such time. Maintenance and repair requested by Resident will generally be performed during norma! business hours on Monday through Friday, unless Landlord deems the work an emergency in its discretion, in which case work may take place at any time. Landlord may temporarily disconnect equipment or utilities to avoid property damage and/or to perform repairs requiring such interruption, in Landlord’s sole discretion, Landlord will not be liable for any inconvenience, discomfort, disruption or interference with Resident use of the premises because of ongoing repairs, alterations or improvements to the premises, the apartment or the Property. c Following move-in, Resident is responsible for providing and changing all light bulbs and batteries (for smoke detectors and remote controls) in the assigned apartment. A written maintenance report requesting assistance in changing these items may be submitted for maintenance staff assistance, with extra charges payable by Resident as applicable per Landlord's published rates. From time to time, maintenance staff may enter the assigned apartment with or without notice to inspect and change furnace filters and to provide pest control. Resident agrees to take responsible steps in notifying Management Staff in writing of damages to the rooms, or common arcas within the residence in order to prevent damage or deterioration, including preventing or minimizing the occurrence and growth of mold and mildew in the residence, Resident shall promptly notify Management Staff in writing of the presence of water leaks, excessive moisture, mold or mildew, or standing water inside the residence, or common areas within the residence, Resident acknowledges that all concems listed above are considered emergencies and require Landlord’s immediate attention; Therefore, Resident cannot postpone or prevent Landlord from addressing the concern immediately. f Resident shall be liable to the property for any damages sustained to the residence, or any common areas within the residence, or to any Resident's person or property as a result of Resident's failure to comply with the terms of this Lease. 18. Management; Community Policies, a. Landlord may retain employees and management agents from time to time to manage the Property, and Landlord’s agent may retain other employees or contractors. Resident, on behalf of himself or herself and his or her Guests, agrees to comply fully with all directions from Landlord and its employees and agents, and the policies and regulations (including all amendments and additions thereto), as contained in this Housing Agreement and any Community Policies that may be published or amended by Landlord from time to time. Landlord will also perform routine property walks which may result in notification to Resident for mandatory attention or repair, such as broken blind replacement, broken or missing screens, cigarette butts, pet waste, porch violations, etc. Failure to comply with management notifications may result in penalty fees or eviction proceedings. Management is not responsible for Resident or Guest accidents, injuries or lost articles. iti. All facilities are under electronic surveillance. iv. The following are not permitted in or around either facility at any time: smoking, alcohol, pets and weapons. v. Heritage pool hours are restricted to 9 am — 9 pm with the exception of maintenance hours as posted. vi. Failure to comply with management instructions and or posted rules may result in loss of use privileges. 19. Breach by Resident. Upon any breach by Resident of this Housing Agreement, including community policies, Landlord may without separate demand or notice, and in addition to other remedies provided by law, do any one or more of the following: (i) collect any charge under this Housing Agreement or community policies; (ii)

sue to collect past due charges; (iii) terminate this Housing Agreement and Resident's right to occupy the premises and/or institute an action for eviction; (iv) sue to collect all unpaid rent and other charges which would become due through the End Date or until the apartment and all other apartments at the Property have been filled, with recovery by Landlord of any discrepancy in rent rate and any expense incurred in obtaining the new resident contract; (v) report any information to credit reporting agencies. Without limitation, Landlord may terminate this Housing Agreement for non-payment of rent or other charges, or upon any conduct by Resident that is prohibited by or in breach of this Agreement, or if, in the reasonable judgment of Landlord, continued residency wili or may be detrimental to the educational process or the health, safety and/or welfare of the other residents of the Property or any of the Property's personnel, Upon any termination as described in this paragraph: (a) Resident must fully vacate the apartment (including removing all personal belongings) within the time provided in the written notice given by Landlord, and will have no further use of or access to the Property, the assigned apartment; and (b) Resident will be fully responsible for all rent and other charges as if the Agreement had been terminated by Resident as described in paragraph 5. Landlord's termination for breach will not limit Landlord's claim for damages resulting from Resident's breach of the Housing Agreement. Landlord's acceptance of rent or other payment following notice to vacate or during the pendency of a legal action will not waive or diminish Landlord's rights under this Housing Agreement or statutory law unless separately and expressly agreed by Landlord. 20. Assumption of Risks: Liability. Resident ASSUMES ALL RISKS associated with use of the Property, and to the full extent permitted by law, agrees to hold harmless, release, defend and indemnify Landlord and its affiliates, members, partners, officers, agents, management company and its and their respective employees ("Released Parties") from all liabilities and/or claims for injury or death to persons or damage or theft to property arising from the use, occupancy, presence at or other interaction with the Property or any part or contents thereof, by Resident or his or her Guests, including without limitation those injuries and damages caused by a Released Party's alleged or actual negligence or breach of any express or implied warranty. The Released Parties will not be liable for injury, damage or loss caused by criminal conduct of other persons, including theft, assault, vandalism or other acts of third parties. Resident agrees to indemnify each Released Party for any injuries to Resident or any Guest or other person or property that arises in connection with occupancy or use by Resident or any Guest of Resident. Resident further agrees to reimburse, indemnify and hold harmless Released Parties from any and all claims, lawsuits, actions, costs, damages (including liquidated damages as specified) or losses, including reasonable attorneys' fees and costs and expenses, that a Released Party incurs or may incur as a result of any breach of this Agreement by Resident. This paragraph shall be binding to the fullest extent permitted by law. 21 Safety Precautions, Resident acknowledges that neither Landlord nor any of its agents, employees or representatives has made any representations or warranties, cither written or oral, conceming the safety of the Property or any Ape" apartment, or the effectivenessx or operability of any security devices or security measures in the Propertyaor any apartment. Resident acknowledges that Landlord neither warrants nor guarantees the safety or security of residents or their Guests against any criminal or wrongful acts of third parties. Resident and his or her Guests are responsible for protecting their own respective person and property and hereby release Landlord and its agents, employees and Tepresentatives for any and all damage to person and property. Landlord’s safety measures are neither a warranty of safety nor a guaranty against crime or of a reduced risk of crime. Resident acknowledges that security devices or measures may be changed or removed by Landlord without notice or compensation, and/or may fail or be thwarted by criminals or by electrical or mechanical malfunctions. Therefore, Resident acknowledges that he or she should not rely on such devices or measures and should take steps to protect himselfor herselfand his or her existing property notwithstanding these devices. Resident agrees to immediately notify Landlord’s representative of any malfunctions involving locks and life-safety building components. Should Resident become seriously injured or imperiled at the Property, Resident authorizes Landlord and its agents to call 911 Emergency at Resident's expense, without legal obligation to do so. 22. Abandonment, !fthe assigned apartment is abandoned or Resident's right to use them has been terminated, Landlord may, without notice, secure the apartment with new locks, to store or dispose of any personal property left in the apartment by Resident or Resident's Guests, and to re-assign the apartment to others for use. Any such abandoned property or personal possessions shall be stored and disposed of by Landlord in accordance with Indiana law. Landlord, in its sole reasonable discretion in accordance with applicable law, will have the right to determine when an apartment is abandoned, which may take into consideration any one of the following: the removal of personal property from the apartment other than in the usual course of continuing use, the failure to pay housing charges or other charges, discontinuance of any utility service, and failure to respond to any notices, phone calls, or correspondence from Landlord or its representatives. 23. Vacating at End of Term: Renewal. This Housing Agreement does not automatically renew and Landlord is not obligated to renew it. Landlord reserves the right to contract with others for the premises at any time, for occupancy commencing after the End Date. Upon termination or expiration of this Housing Agreement for any reason, Resident will immediately vacate and relinquish the entire apartment, and all of Landlord’s fixtures, in a clean and sanitary condition, including removing all trash, Resident will pay all utility and service bills to the apartment (except those provided by Landlord as specified in this Housing Agreement) and cancel all utility accounts in the name of Resident. Resident will return to Landlord alt keys issued to Resident by Landlord. If all keys issued to Resident arc not returned to Landlord at the time of the move-out Inspection Report, Resident will pay all costs associated with rekeying or reprogramming locks for the apartment, along with the cost of replacement of all keys. If Resident fails to vacate the apartment by the end of the Term or upon earlier termination of the Agreement, Resident will pay agreed holdover charges equal to three (3) times the daily pro-rated rate during the Term, plus associated expenses, including, attorneys’ fees. In no event after termination or expiration of this Housing Agreement will it be deemed to have been renewed or extended. 24. Security Deposit. As security for Resident’s full performance of this Housing Agreement, Resident will deposit with Landlord the Security Deposit amount identified above which will be held in full for the assigned apartment through the entire duration of the lease term and its subsequent renewals. At no point in time will Landlord apply any portion of the held Security Deposit toward charges or ledger balances until after resident has vacated the premises. When the apartment is properly vacated, and Resident has turned in all keys and after inspection by Landlord, the Security Deposit balance will be refunded to Resident, less any unpaid rent, utility charges, ledger balances and any other amounts due under this Housing Agreement, including any charges and associates labor costs for damage, defacement or loss including but not limited to, cleaning and painting costs associated with returning the apartment to a move-in condition at Landlord’s discretion. The Resident is responsible for any cost of the carpets being cleaned, replaced, or repaired along with any other flooring damages. The Security Deposit is not intended as prepayment of rent and Resident may not withhold rent at any time based on the existence of the Security Deposit. Landlord’s retention of part or all of the Security Deposit will not limit Landiord’s right to all damages resulting from Resident's breach of the Housing Agreement. Resident agrees to provide a valid forwarding address upon termination or expiration of occupancy. Landlord will return any unused portion of the Security Deposit and an itemized list of deductions as applicable to Resident at such address within 45 days after the latter of the expiration or termination of this Housing Agreement, or surrender by

Resident and acceptance by Landlord of the premises. Resident(s) will have 30 days from the date the letter is issued to dispute any charges assessed to the Security Deposit after move out. All Security Deposit settlement disputes must be submitted for review in writing to Landlord and will be responded to in the order they are received. Resident acknowledges that additional time is required to research the specifics of any disputes and agrees to allow adequate time for Landlord to respond to his or her inquiry.. 25. Casualty Loss. If in Landlord's reasonable judgment the premises or the Property is materially damaged by fire or other casualty, Landlord may terminate this Housing Agreement within a reasonable time after such x pipe” &@ determination, by written notice to Resident, in which case Landlord will refund prorated, pre-paid rent and all deposits less lawful deductions unless Resident and/or Resident's guest(s) caused the casualty, in which case all funds on account will be applied to all applicable charges related to the damages and Resident will be responsible for the balance of all charges for repairs. If following a fire or other casualty Landlord does not elect to terminate this Housing Agreement, Landlord will rebuild the damaged areas within a reasonable time, and during such reconstruction, Resident will be provided a reasonable rent reduction for the unusable portion of the premises unless Resident and/or Resident's guest(s) caused the casualty, 26 Guarantor Information, Notice. Landlord reserves the right to notify any Guarantor ofany action taken or notice given with regard to Resident under this Housing Agreement. {f Resident or Guarantor has supplied information by means of an application for residency, guaranty of payment or other documentation, Resident and Guarantor, as the case may be, represent that such information is true and correct and given voluntarily and knowingly. Landlord and its management agent reserve the right to release any such information and/or Resident's account history to law enforcement, government officials, lenders and prospective purchasers ofthe Property. 27. Claims, All claims, including without limitation claims for injury and/or death, will be governed by the internal laws of the State of Indiana with respect to contracts made and events occurring within Indiana and that exclusive jurisdiction will be in the courts of Monroe County, Indiana.

If Landlord brings an action against Resident for breach or other enforcement of this agreement, Landlord may recover all costs or fees incurred in connection with such matter, including reasonable attorneys' fees, as part of any judgment, in accordance with applicable law. 28 Miscellaneous. Failure of Landlord to insist upon strict compliance with the terms of this Housing Agreement will not constitute a waiver of Landlord's rights to act on any violation. Landlord's rights are cumulative and the exercise of any remedy by Landlord will not exclude or waive the right to exercise any other right or remedy. Time is of the essence in the performance of this Housing Agreement. Landlord and its agents and affiliates make no representations or warranty as to the character or standing of any other residents of the Property. This Agreement and any attached and signed addenda constitute the entire agreement between the parties and no oral statements will be binding. Any amendment to this Housing Agreement, other than a change to the Community Policies, must be in writing and signed by Resident and Landlord or its authorized agent. If any provision of this Agreement is found to be unenforceable or inapplicable, then the remaining provisions will not be voided and will remain in full force and effect. If any provision of this Agreement requires the permission or consent of Landlord, such written permission or consent may be granted or withheld in the sole discretion of Landlord or its designated agent or representative or may contain such conditions as Landlord deems appropriate and will be effective only if Resident complies with such conditions. Moreover, any written permission or consent given by Landlord to Resident may be modified, revoked, or withdrawn by Landlord at any time, at Landlord's sole discretion, upon written notice to Resident. 29. Subordination. Resident's rights under this Housing Agecement are all expressly subordinate, junior and inferior to the lien of any mortgage or deed of trust currently or in the future in effect against real estate and/or buildings of which the premises are a part. The foregoing subordination shall be self-opcrative, and no additional documentation shall be needed to effectuate the same.
